Hawaiian
Electric Company.

The cleanest, brightest and really the long run, the cheapest and best light for use in the family residence, is the incandescent electric light. Safe, nothing could be safer. A few days ago a prominent gentleman of Honolulu came rushing down to the office of the Electric Company and said:
"Give me figures for wiring my house, and I want it done at once; no more lamps for me.
Last night a lamp tipped over and it came so near setting fire to the house and burning my children and I take no more risks." This is the sentiment of quite a number in the past few weeks, who have ordered their houses fitted with the perfect light.
Just think it over and make up your mind that you want the best and safest light; send for the Hawaiian Electric Company and tell them what you want.
We have a complete stock of everything in his line and have just received a lot of the very latest designs in chandeliers

DID YOU EVER
SEE A SNOWSTORM
IN SUMMER?

We never did; but we have seen the clothing at this time of the year so covered with dandruff that it looked as if it had been out in a regular snowstorm.

No need of this snowstorm.

As the summer sun would melt the falling snow, so will

Ayer's Hair Vigor

melt these flakes of dandruff in the scalp.
It goes further than this: it prevents their formation.

It has still other properties: it will restore color to gray hair in just ten out of every ten cases.

And it does even more: it feeds and nourishes the roots of the hair. Thin hair becomes thick hair; and short hair becomes long hair.

THE ARTICLES AGREED ON

HOW THE NATIONS WILL SETTLE THEIR DISPUTES.

Terms Agreed on by The Congress at The Hague—Basis for Settlement of International Squabbles.

The articles on arbitration, adopted by the peace congress at The Hague, which are of as much interest here as elsewhere, are as follows:

Article 1.—With the object of preventing, as far as possible, recourse to force in international relations, the signatory powers agree to use all endeavors to effect by pacific means settlement of differences which may arise between them.

Article 2.—The signatory powers decide that in cases of serious difference or conflict, they will, before appealing to arms, have recourse, so far as circumstances permit, to the good offices of mediation or of one or several friendly powers.

Article 3.—Independently of this the signatory powers deem it useful that several of the powers not committed to the arbitration scheme, shall, on their initiative, offer, as far as circumstances permit, their good offices for mediation to the contending states. The right of offering their good offices belongs to powers not connected with the conflict even during the course of hostilities, which act can never be regarded as an unfriendly act.

Article 4.—The part of mediator consists in reconciling conflicting claims and assisting in settling them. It may have arisen between contending states.

Article 5.—The functions of mediators cease from the moment it may be stated by one of the contending parties or by the mediator himself that the compromise or basis of an amicable understanding proposed by him has not been accepted.

Article 6.—Good offices and mediation have the exclusive character of counsel and are devoid of obligatory power.

Article 7.—The acceptance of mediation, unless otherwise stipulated, may have the effect of interrupting the signature of preparing for war. If the acceptance supervenes after the opening of hostilities it shall not interrupt, except by a convention of contrary tenor, military operations that may be proceeding.

Article 8.—The signatory powers agree in recommending the application of special mediation in the event of threatened interruption of peace between members. Contending states may each choose a power to which they will in-trust the mission of entering into a negotiation with a power chosen by the other side with the object of preventing a rupture of pacific relations, or in the event of hostilities of restoring peace.

Article 20.—With the object of facilitating an immediate recourse to arbitration for international differences not regulated by diplomatic means, the signatory powers undertake to organize in the following manner a permanent court of arbitration accessible at all times and exercising its functions, unless otherwise stipulated between the contending parties, in conformity with the rules of procedure inserted in the present convention.

Article 21.—This court is to have competency in all arbitration cases, unless the contending parties come to an understanding for the establishment of a special arbitration jurisdiction.

Article 22.—An international bureau established at The Hague and placed under the direction of a permanent secretary general will serve as the office of the court. It will be the intermediary for communications concerning meetings. The court is to have the custody of archives and the management of all administrative affairs.

Article 23.—Each of the signatory powers shall appoint within three months of the ratification of the present article not more than four persons of recognized competence in questions of international law, enjoying the highest moral consideration and prepared to accept the functions of arbitrators. The persons thus nominated will be entered as members of the court on a list which will be communicated by the bureau to all the signatory powers. Any modification of the list will be brought by the bureau to the knowledge of the signatory powers. Two or more powers may agree together regarding the nomination of one or more members and the same person may be chosen by the different powers. Members of the court are to be appointed for the term of six years. The appointments are renewable.
In case of death or resignation of a member of the court the vacancy is to be filled in accordance with the regulations made for the original nomination.

Article 24.—The signatory powers who desire to apply to the court for settlement of differences shall select from the general list a number of arbitrators, to be fixed by agreement. They will notify the bureau of their intention of applying to the court and give the names of the arbitrators they may have selected. In the absence of a convention to the contrary, an arbitral tribunal is to be constituted in accordance with the rules of article 31. Arbitrators thus nominated to form an arbitral tribunal for a matter or question will meet on the date fixed for the contending parties.

Article 25.—The tribunal will usually sit at The Hague, but may sit elsewhere by consent of the contending powers.

Article 26.—The powers not signing the convention may apply to the court under the conditions prescribed by the present convention.

Article 27.—The signatory powers may consider it their duty to call attention to any of their friends between whom a conflict is threatened, which must always be regarded as a tender of good offices.

Article 28.—A permanent council, composed of the diplomatic representatives of the signatory powers residing at The Hague and the Netherlands foreign minister, who will exercise the functions of president, will be constituted at The Hague as soon as possible after the ratification of the present act.

The council will be charged to establish and organize the international bureau, which will remain under its direction and control. The council will notify the powers of the constitution of the court and arrange its installation. draw up the standing orders and other necessary regulations, will decide on the questions likely to arise in regard to the working of the tribunal, have absolute powers concerning the appointment, suspension or dismissal of functionaries, or employees, will fix the general expenditures, and the preside-ent of five members at duly convened meetings will constitute a quorum. Decisions are to be taken by a majority of the votes. The council will address annually to the signatory powers a report on the labors of the court, the working of its administrative service and of its expenditures.

Article 29.—The expenses of the bureau are to be borne by the signatory powers in the proportion fixed by the International Bureau of the Universal Postal Union.

Article 30.—The powers who accept arbitration will sign a special act, clearly defining the object of the dispute, as well as the scope of the arbitration. The powers acts confirm the undertaking of the parties to submit in good faith to the arbitration judgment.

Article 31.—Arbitration functions may be conferred upon a single arbitrator or on several arbitrators designated by the parties at their discretion, or chosen from among the members of the permanent court established by the present act. Unless otherwise decided, the formation of the arbitration tribunal is to be effected as follows:

Each party will appoint two arbitrators, who will choose a chief arbitrator.
In case of a division the selection is to be entrusted to a third power, whom the parties will designate. If an agreement is not effected in this manner, each party is to designate a different power and the choice of a chief arbitrator is to devolve upon them.

Article 32.—When an arbitrator is a sovereign or head of a state the arbitral procedure depends exclusively on his arbitrary decision.

Article 33.—The chief arbitrator is president de jure. When the tribunal does not contain a chief of arbitration the tribunal may appoint its own president. He may be designated by the contending parties, or, failing this, by the arbitration tribunal.

Articles 34 to 36 provide for the appointment of councillors, the selection of the languages to be employed and the rules of procedure in the court, whose sittings are to be behind closed doors.

Article 37.—A judgment agreed to by a majority vote is to be set forth in writing, giving the full reasons, and is to be signed by each member, the minority recording its dissent and signing it.

Articles 38 to 53.—The decision of the court is to be read at a public sitting, in the presence of the agents or counsel of the contending parties, who shall finally decide the matter at issue and close the arbitration proceedings.
